PANDEMIC MASK LANDSCAPE Call for Participants

This outdoor workshop has been conceived to bring together ritual and storytelling by creating a giant landscape made from COVID masks that protected us during the Pandemic. Workshop participants will be asked to bring 1, 2, or 3-meter square pieces with masks attached to sturdy backing. There can be empty spaces between the masks. 3-D pieces are encouraged. These pieces will be attached together with grommets and lashing resembling a landscape. The hope is to have about 20 pieces to assemble - the more pieces, the larger the mountain. There will be additional masks on hand for those still creating.

To prepare for the workshop participating groups of students and professionals, before coming to Calgary, will gather an assortment of masks with a range of shapes, colours, and textures stitching them together into pieces approximately 3 x 3 meters. Individuals can create a piece 1 meter square.

Participation in this activity is free. WSD 2022 Registration is required.
